

GUIDE TO AVOIDING GE FISH

Genetically engineered (GE) salmon may soon be heading to market, and FDA has stated that if it approves GE salmon it will likely not require the fish to be labeled, leaving consumers in the dark. We have launched a national campaign to keep GE salmon out of our supermarkets and off our plates. We've contacted the nation's biggest grocery stores, seafood companies, and seafood restaurants asking them to commit not to sell genetically engineered salmon should it come to market. Dozens have committed to avoid GE salmon, but there are many more to go! See where your favorites stand and visit <http://bit.ly/KeepGeSalmonOffOurTables> to sign the petition to food companies.
