

PLANT FOR POLLINATORS

A GUIDE FOR THE NORTHEAST REGION

BEE Protective

BEES AND OTHER BENEFICIAL POLLINATORS are disappearing at alarming rates. While there are numerous factors leading to pollinator decline, including the continued use of bee-toxic pesticides, there are also many ways we can help. By making simple choices such as planting pollinator-friendly plants to provide bees forage, we can all do our part to address this crisis and protect our pollinators.

* Plant suggestions are listed based on approximate times of bloom, some flowers may have times of bloom beyond these seasons

SPRING AND EARLY SUMMER	MID-SUMMER	LATE SUMMER AND FALL
American Basswood*	American Bittersweet	American Witchhazel*
American Mountain Ash*	Blue Vervain	Ashy Sunflower
Black Chokeberry*	Boneset	Bigleaf Aster
Canadian Wild Ginger	Bush Honeysuckle*	Black-eyed Susan
Cutleaf Toothwort	Canada Lily	Bluestem Goldenrod
Feathery False Lily of the Valley	Cardinal Flower	Bottle Gentian
Foam Flower	Catberry*	Buttonbush*
Golden Alexanders	Chokecherry*	Calico Aster
Golden Ragwort	Common Snowberry*	Cardinal Flower
Highbush Blueberry*	Common Winterberry*	Common Sneezeweed
Hookedspur Violet	Eastern Teaberry*	Early Goldenrod
Kinnikinnick*	Field Thistle	Flat Top White Aster
Large Bellwort	Hairy Beardtongue	Grass-leaved Goldenrod
Leatherleaf*	Highbush Blueberry*	Gray Goldenrod
Mapleleaf Viburnum*	Narrowleaf Mountain Mint	Great Blue Lobelia
Marsh Marigold	New Jersey Tea*	New England Aster
Ninebark*	Partridgeberry	New York Ironweed
Pussy Willow*	Sundial Lupine	Purple Coneflower
Raspberry, Blackberry	Swamp Milkweed	Purple Giant Hyssop
Red Columbine	Sweet Scented Joe-Pye Weed	Rough-leaved Goldenrod
Rhodora*	Twin Flower	Roundhead Lespedeza
Roundleaf Dogwood*	Water Avens	Showy Goldenrod
Running Service Berry*	White Meadowsweet*	Smooth Blue Aster
Shrubby Cinquefoil*	Wild Bergamot	Virgin's Bower
Skunk Cabbage	Wild Golden Glow	White Turtlehead
Spiderwort		Wild Bergamont
Starflower		Wingstem
Trailing Arbutus*		Wrinkleleaf Goldenrod
White Baneberry		Zigzag Aster
White Trillium

* Tree/Shrub

For more information visit www.centerforfoodsafety.org or email us at pollinators@centerforfoodsafety.org

CENTER FOR FOOD SAFETY